

Join us Wednesday, November 15th for a day of learning and fun!

Pro basketball player turned farmer and social innovator, Will Allen, is coming to Pinellas Technical College to teach an exciting class in composting! Come find out what options are available to you right here in St. Petersburg to cultivate your own fertile soil!

Will Allen will host a composting class from 10:00am - 11:30am. See a demonstration of composting with materials from the St. Petersburg area.

Stay for Will's 12:00pm Press Conference followed by a BBQ hosted by Pinellas Technical College's own Culinary Department.

For more information about this exciting event, email nbrand8@gmail.com or call 808-202-3048.
